

Office of Vocational Rehabilitation: Overview

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) provides vocational services to help people with disabilities prepare for, obtain, and retain employment. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation is an agency that receives funds from the state and federal government. Vocational Rehabilitation offices are in every state.

OVR can help you:

Decide what type of job you want

Identify your skills
and talents

Determine what accommodations you may need to succeed at work

Identify resources to assist you

Develop a plan to achieve
your employment goals,
called an individualized plan
for employment (IPE)